Simply because tropical designs look dramatic doesn't mean you should be nervous about creating them. Become adept at designing in the "tropical style" on a regular basis by sizing them for everyday use. Why not help your customers express their feelings, whatever the occasion, with an attention getting tropical touch? Set yourself apart from the rest by adding these pleasing styles with an unusual flair to your everyday offerings.
Your instructor will demonstrate three differently styled designs with identical materials. Then class attendees will choose one style to create and take home at the end of the class. Learn care and handling and helpful mechanics.
